

CITY OF LACEY
Official Proclamation

WHEREAS, after twenty years, Joseph DiSanto is stepping down as President and Chief Executive Officer of Panorama, a Continuing Care Retirement Community; and

WHEREAS, under the direction of Joseph DiSanto, Panorama evolved and developed into one of the premier residence for active people seeking to live a full and meaningful life; and

WHEREAS, Joseph DiSanto's leadership and management inspired the staff and residents to seek the best in themselves and each other to create a nurturing environment to work and to live; and

WHEREAS, Joseph DiSanto guided the change in culture and substance turning Panorama City, a struggling and financially distressed property, into a thriving business employing more than 425 individuals and taking its place as an important part of the Thurston County culture; and

WHEREAS, Joseph DiSanto's love of art inspired the creation of a truly remarkable art scene at Panorama, providing time and convenience for the experienced and novice, for the dreamers and the doers, to paint, sculpt, write, act, sing, dance, quilt, carve, weld, and be "all that one can be"; and

WHEREAS, the staff and residents of Panorama have found Joseph DiSanto an outstanding and energetic advocate for exceptional service, commitment to quality, and uncompromising value.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Andy Ryder, Mayor of the City of Lacey, do hereby proclaim the fifteenth day of September 2016 to be

Joe DiSanto Day

AND FURTHER, I encourage all citizens to join me in celebrating his 20 years of service at Panorama and the Lacey community.
